

Henry John Burmeister
(born Helmut Johann Theodor Burmeister)
June 22, 1917 – February 20, 2010

We dedicate this issue to our father, who would have been one hundred this summer. He immigrated to this country at the age of ten, and fought for it as a Ritchie Boy in World War II for five years. He was a good father, a good son, a good husband, a good friend, and a good citizen. A remarkable man of integrity, courage, tenderness, and zest.
